HISTORY OF ALL-STAR GIRLS' SOCCER GAMES

- 1996 - NORTH 1, SOUTH 0 - Suzanne Dodd, who had never scored a goal in 4 years while playing for Pearl High School, scored the first and only goal in the inaugural Coca-Cola All-Star Girls' Soccer Game held at Mississippi College's Robinson-Hale Stadium. Dodd scored on a putback goal with an assist from Vicksburg's Amy Bottin at the 27th minute of the first half to pace the North to the shutout victory. The South actually dominated the early play as they took 13 shots on goal, 9 of which came before the North managed their first shot, which was Dodd's goal. Goalkeeper Jessica Querin of Madison Central stopped every shot the South offered and claimed Most Valuable Defensive Player honors. For her solo goal, Dodd was named Most Valuable Offensive Player.
- 1997 - NORTH 3, SOUTH 0 - The North blitzed the South with 3 goals in the first 13 minutes of play and held on for the shutout at Joe Renfroe Memorial Stadium at Hinds Community College in Raymond. Madison Central's Susan Rigby took a pass from April Alford of Brandon and kicked in the first goal just six minutes into the game. Five minutes later, Tupelo's Amanda Taylor scored close in with an assist from Madison Central's Courtney Shires and the North quickly led 2-0. Just after Taylor scored, the North brought the ball down field immediately and Rigby, who was named offensive MVP for the game, snared her second goal for 3-0 North margin. Vicksburg's Katie Flanagan was named the South's defensive MVP.
- 1998 - NORTH 2, SOUTH 0 - The North remained unbeaten in the third annual All-Star game held at Joe Renfroe Stadium on the Hinds Community College campus at Raymond. Kim Thompson of Clinton, Best Offensive Player of the game, scored two spectacular goals for the North to pace her team to the win. Thompson's first goal was unassisted as she dribbled past three defenders and scored 43 minutes into the contest. Her second tally happened 13 minutes later when she headed the ball into the goal off a corner kick. The North's Jennifer Case of Madison Central was selected as the Best Defensive Player while the South's Amanda Keith of West Jones was chosen as the Coca-Cola Scholar Athlete.
- 1999 - NORTH 3, SOUTH 0 - At Joe Renfroe Stadium on the Hinds Community College Campus at Raymond, the North continued their unbeaten streak against the South in the fourth annual contest by striking quickly for a goal by Vicksburg's Erin Baylot less than a minute after the game started. Baylot's teammate and fellow Vicksburg Missy Gator Kristin Chapman provided the assist on the key goal. Chapman, the Mississippi Player of the Year and Best Offensive Player of the game, later added an unassisted goal in the 60th minute to close out the scoring for the North. The early Baylot goal, however, set the tone of the game and paced the North to the 3-0 win, their fourth consecutive shutout over the South. Marcia Storm of Brandon, the Coca-Cola Student Athlete Award recipient, gave the North a 2-0 lead in the 18th minute of play with assists from Meridian's Kate Ellmo and Brandon's Ashley Wynn. North goalkeeper Kate Ellmo was named the Best Defensive Player after stopping several shots from point blank range. The North out shot the South 17-1.
- 2000 - SOUTH 1, NORTH 1 - The South snapped the North's four game winning streak with a disappointing tie at Joe Renfroe Stadium at Hinds Community College in Raymond. After being outscored 9-0 in the previous four encounters, the South finally scored their first goal in the series in the 20th minute. Aimee Guillot from Resurrection, the smallest school in the state, knocked in a left footed crossing pass from Northwest Rankin's Alissa Leffler to put the South up 1-0, their first ever lead in the series. The North, however, tied the game at one-all when Clinton's Martha Christopher tallied in the 38th minute on a rebound from Greenville St. Joe's Rebecca Touchstone. The game ended in a tie despite missed chances on both sides. The South's Alissa Leffler was named the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player while Jennifer Montgomery of Greenville St. Joe was chosen as the Most Valuable Defensive Player. With the tie, the North holds the series edge at 4-0-1 .
- 2001 - NORTH 3, SOUTH 2 • Allison Mullen of Greenville St. Joseph scored two goals, including the game winner in the 77th minute, to give the North a thrilling victory over the South and maintain the North's series lead at 5-0-1. Mullen was named the Offensive MVP by helping the North overcome a 1-0 halftime deficit as she also tied the game at 2-2 with an unassisted goal in the 60th minute. Jackie

With time running out and a tie in the making. Meeks took a pass from Emily Myers of Our Lady Academy, stopped, pulled the ball back, and fired in the goal that sliced the North's lead in the series to 5-1-1. For her efforts, Meeks was named Most Valuable Offensive player. The South took a 1-0 lead into halftime as Ashley Chrisman of Our Lady Academy scored in the 23rd minute with an unassisted tally following a corner kick. The North rallied in the second half and tied the game in the 52nd minute on a goal by Northwest Rankin's Katie Knop off an assist by Kathryn White of Brandon, who was named Most Valuable Defensive player of the game. The South's Nilda Maria Witty of Laurel was selected as the Coca-Cola Student Athlete award winner.

2003 - SOUTH 1, NORTH 0 - The South defeated the North for the second consecutive year on the strength of Sandra Magee of Harrison Central who tallied the only goal at the 57 minute mark. Magee, who was named Offensive MVP, was set up on the play by teammate Katy Evans of Ocean Springs who had a crucial corner kick. Brandi Head of Vicksburg of the South was named Defensive MVP while the North's Heidi Frazier of Madison Central received the Coca-Cola Student Athlete Scholarship Award. With the win, the South narrowed the North's overall lead in the series to 5-2-1.

2004 - NORTH 1, SOUTH 0 - Despite being outshot 11-1 in the first half, the North made their solo shot count for the lone goal of the game to snap the South's two game winning streak in the series. Kortney Harris of Meridian dribbled around two defenders and scored what proved to be the winning tally in the 33rd minute of the game. Harris drilled the ball off her opposite foot into the top right corner of the goal over the head of South goalie Natasha Johnson of Harrison Central after the South dominated play. For her efforts, Harris was named Offensive MVP. The South's Danielle Princiotta of Ocean Springs was selected as the game's Defensive MVP. The South's Meghann Ainsworth was selected as the Coca-Cola Student Athlete Scholarship award winner. The North increased their series lead with the shutout victory to 6-2-1.

2005 - NORTH 1, SOUTH 0 - Victoria Hill of Greenville St. Joseph scored the only goal of the 10th annual girls game in the 67th minute to clinch a victory for the North. Madison Central goalkeeper Amanda Groos earned Best Defensive Player honors by nailing down the North's second straight shutout and the 7th overall in the series. The South's best scoring chance came in the 51st minute when a free kick by Joelle Hupp of St. Andrews bounced off the crossbar. Hupp was selected as the Coca-Cola Student Athlete scholarship award winner. With the victory, the North stretched the series lead to 7-2-1.

2006 - NORTH 5, SOUTH 0 - Madison Central's Courtney Alexander scored a hat trick of three goals to pace the North to its third straight victory and extend the series lead to 8-2-1. The five goals scored by the North were the most goals tallied by one team in the game's 11-year history. Alexander, who was named the game's Best Offensive Player, started the scoring in the eighth minute. Tupelo's Hannah Weatherly, who had a goal and two assists on the day, set up Alexander for the North's second goal and scored the third goal for a 3-0 halftime lead. Alexander's final goal came in the 57th minute on a setup by Tupelo's Lydia Rice while the North's last tally came off the foot of Weatherly in the 70th minute with an assist to Madison Central's Katie Lynn Harden.
